The directors also explained that they felt the shareholders should be advised that in view of the requirements of the company for capital investment they have no purpose to increase the aggregate amount of dividend disbursement at the present time. The present dividend is on the basis of 20 per cent annually.

NEW BRUNSWICK CITIZENS SAY HAYES "FRAMED"

Plan Tag Day On Saturday to Raise Funds for His Defense

(By The Associated Press)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 11.—Officials handling the Hall-Mills murder mystery evaded the army of newspaper men who camped on their trail today, but thru the inevitable "leaks" came circumstantial reports that most of the day's activities tended to draw more sharply into the spotlight Nicholas Bahner, saloon-keeper, who was jailed last night on a statutory charge preferred by his daughter, Pearl, 15, also in jail on a charge of incorrigibility.

Bahner's record was checked and rechecked and his story of his whereabouts on the night of the slaying of the Rev. E. W. Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Mills, was gone over closely. Attempts also were made to question him further but jail attendants reported he was so badly shattered of nerve as a result of deprivation of alcoholic stimulants that he was unable to talk coherently.

Bahner's daughter in one of her many statements told authorities that Bahner had threatened to cut both her own throat and that of Raymond Schneider, her sweetheart on the night that the minister and choir leader were slain and the latter's throat was slashed. Bahner denied this, but admitted he was looking for Schneider that night with a pistol. He said he was at home and in bed when the murders were committed.

While the authorities were checking up new leads and re-checking the story told by Schneider, on which young Clifford Hayes has been arrested for the murders, citizens of New Brunswick forged ahead with plans for a "tag day" Saturday to raise a "Hayes Justice Fund." They openly express belief that Hayes was "framed."

Timothy N. Pfeiffer, counsel for Mrs. Frances Hall, the slain clergyman's widow was much in evidence about the court house today. He sought interviews with several officials who are working on the case.

A knife, which police said they considered one of the most important clues recently brought to light in the double killing, was given the authorities by Mrs. Thomas Lyons.

The police said it was a kitchen knife with a sharp blade bearing what appeared to be blood stains. Mrs. Lyons said it was found by her 8 year old son, Johnny, in one of the lanes leading from the Phillips farm, the day after the discovery of the bodies.

GERALDINE FARRAR PUTS ALL COSTUMES ON SALE THIS WEEK

Famous Prima Donna Thru With Opera, Will Make Concert Tour

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Memories for "sale" might well be tagged above the doors of four big chambers at the Fifth avenue auction rooms which were thrown open today for public inspection of the effects of Geraldine Farrar, scheduled to be sold at public auction next Friday and Saturday.

For into those chambers America's most famous diva had crowded all the physical mementos of her long and brilliant career on the Metropolitan stage and all that could remind her of her equally famous, but briefer and less successful career as the wife of Lou Tellegen.

Gorgeous costumes, wigs, shawls and jewels that she wore in her most famous roles are there in profusion. So are the rich furnishings of the home she occupied with her famous actor-husband, furniture, tapestries, rugs, even the rubber door mat with its inscribed "T."

Farrar, thru with opera as she is thru with romance, plans to hit the trail soon in a private car for a concert tour of the United States.

After that she is expected to appear under the management of David Belasco on the speaking stage.

The exhibition opened today drew throngs of Farrar devotees. And what they saw established forever Farrar's reputation for lavishness. There are 86 items in all.

About 20 percent of the diva's most famous costumes are draped on headless dummies in one of the exhibiting chambers. Among these are the red spangled froth creation that dazzled first nighters at Zaza; the cloth of silver gown, with American flag draped from the shoulder in which Farrar sang during the Liberty loan campaigns and the court dress of silver cloth with queen's cape of blue velvet and ermine. (reputed cost $11,000) which she wore only three times in the ill-fated La Reine Flamette.

Scores of famous costumes hang about walls in serried ranks, like ordinary garments in a clothes closet. Her Carmen wardrobe alone was sufficient to equip half a dozen Carmen road companies. Farrar's wigs fill several show cases for she invariably covered her own tresses with a wig even in operas where her role called for black hair. All are of human hair except two worn in the early scenes of Thais. These are of gold thread for it was the custom among women of Thais' time and profession to gild their hair.

Among the brightest spots of the exhibit are the kimonos worn in butterfly. There are 10, each ruffled with all the others for the ultimate in gorgeousness. There are two notable souvenirs of the Metropolitan missing from the exhibit. One is the red velvet robe worn in Tosca. Farrar presented this when she said farewell to an assistant stage manager who long had admired it. The other is the table knife with which she stabbed Scarpia in Tosca. The knife—a trick one—was a prop and still is laying actors low on the Metropolitan stage.

One of the most interesting items on exhibit is the blue, yellow and green ostrich plumes which she wore in Tosca. The first night she wore it, it also contained a red feather. But this caused so many gasps that everybody agreed the red feather should be deleted.

PRODUCTION OF COAL SPEEDS UP THRU RAIL HELP

Started off This Week with Almost Record Breaking Speed

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Coal production started off this week at a marked and almost record breaking rate which Fuel Distributor Spens declared in a statement today was an index to the effective railroad co-operation obtained for the industry in the attempt to make up deficiencies in the country's fuel supply due to the miner's strike.

The chamber of commerce of the United States also gave out the results of a survey it has made in co-operation with the government indicating that stocks of coal intended for domestic consumption in most parts of the country are practically still a critical necessity for more coal to be moved into certain areas for this purpose.

According to reports to the American Railway association on Monday, 40,596 cars of bituminous, 14,101 more than on Saturday of last week were produced. This is the largest day's output since December, 1920, and amounted to more than 2,000,000 tons. There was also produced 6,446 cars of anthracite, 288 more than on Saturday.

Mr. Spens declared that railroads were being urged the maintenance movement of at least 11,000,000 tons of bituminous per week.

BISHOP CANNON AGAIN ARRAIGNED IN UNITED STATES

Militant Minister Says That Country Failed to Do Its Duty

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Bishop James J. Cannon, Jr., of Birmingham, Ala., addressing a meeting of the federal council of churches and of the Near East relief today charged that the United States as a Christian nation had failed to meet its responsibilities in the Near East situation and urged that the government take immediate action to attempt to stop Turkish massacres.

Henry W. Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey and Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, general secretary of the church peace union joined with Bishop Cannon in urging that the United States government should throw its moral support in the balance against the Turks.

The meeting today was called with the purpose of "arriving at the truth of the Near East situation."

It was attended by representatives of American relief organizations, mission workers, heads of American schools in the Near East, and prominent churchmen and editors.

Bishop Cannon, who returned today from a trip thru Europe and the Near East, declared that the object of the Kemal advance into Europe was the methodical extermination of Christians. Admitting that both Armenians and Greeks had been guilty of charges of cruelty and massacre, he said this condition had been caused by a breakdown in morale and charged that the Turks massacres were cold blooded and methodical.

Describing the conditions in the near east the bishop declared that all great nations stood helpless and powerless before the heinous work of the Turks. He urged America to take action at once and failing, that it take a moral stand on the issue.

"I think," said Mr. Morgenthau, "that the United States should get its second breath and come back as a moral nation by taking a stand against the Turks."

DOCTOR'S ADDRESS CREATES DISFAVOR

(By The Associated Press)
ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 11.—A theory that while the physical body sleeps an "ether body" wanders the world over and accumulates the stuff that dreams are made of met with disfavor before the Mississippi Valley Medical association's convention today.

Dr. W. Stewart Leach of Rosca, Minn., talking on "the pineal gland and the condition of ego in sleep" advanced the theory that there are two distinct bodies in every human being, one physical and the other known as the ether body.

While the physical body sleeps, the speaker said, the ether body slips away for a nocturnal prelude that may even carry it to foreign lands always to return before the physical body awakens.

Protests marked the conclusion of his talk and the convention unanimously ordered his address stricken from the records.

SUPREME COURT CALLED UPON TO SOLVE PROBLEM

One of Solomon's Problems Must be Worked Out By Court

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—One of Solomon's problems was presented to the supreme court today for solution when it was asked to determine who was the mother of Thomas Atkins, a Creek Indian to whom was patented lands in Oklahoma or great value because of oil.

The court in reaching its decision will not have the affections of a mother to aid it, for the child long since died, and the woman who the federal courts held was the mother is also dead. The second woman in the case is alive but demented and in the custody of a guardian.

When the Dawes commission made allotments to the Creek Indians it listed Thomas Atkins as a member of that tribe, and a patent for 160 acres of land was issued in his name. Years later with the development of oil properties in Oklahoma the land awarded Thomas Atkins, located in the Cushing oil fields, was purchased by Charles Page from Minnie Atkins, a Creek halfblood. Minnie claimed title to the land as the mother of Thomas, who she asserted, died while a minor.

Nancy Atkins, a fullblood contesting title on the ground that she and not Minnie was the mother of Thomas. The "adoption" came into the case and asked the patent to the land be cancelled, contending that Thomas was a myth, never had existed and that the land had been allotted thru fraud. To complicate the case further Henry Carter entered a claim to the property, declaring he was the Thomas Atkins to whom it had been allotted.

The value of the property in oil already recovered and that which still remains was placed by counsel at $4,000,000. It was acquired from Minnie Atkins for a few hundred dollars. The lower federal courts held that she was the mother of Thomas.

"Instead of giving you a sentence in the house of correction I'm going to order you to marry this girl and make a nice little home," Judge Backus said.

J. OGDEN ARMOUR DEFENDS FUTURE DEALING IN GRAIN

Refuses to Give Figures of Extent of His Dealings

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 11.—J. Ogden Armour, meat packer and capitalist, declined today for the present at least to reveal to the federal trade commission the extent of his speculations in wheat and corn during the period from July 15, 1920, to May 31, 1922. He will appear again Friday morning after conferring with his attorneys and tell the commission whether he will or will not give the figures sought.

Admitting that he had been in the market, "occasionally" as a speculator during the period under investigation, Mr. Armour declined either to name his brokers or reveal the lump sum of his long or short lines on any given day.

Mr. Armour defended speculation in grain and the marketing machinery which makes it possible because the farmer is afforded an opportunity to sell his produce on any day of the year in an open market.

The producer does not always get the price he is entitled to, he admitted, but on the average, he said the farmer does benefit by the system. His views on the speculative market were brought out by Victor Murdock, vice chairman of the commission, who recalled his acquaintance with P. D. Armour, founder of the Armour fortunes and father of the present head of the house. It was P. D. Armour who broke the great Joe Leiter wheat corner in 1897. Leiter had 40,000,000 bushels of wheat purchased and as delivery day approached Armour was 9,000,000 bushels short with no wheat in the market. He rushed icebreaking tugs to the straits of Mackinac and the Soo and kept the channels open while his freighters brought down the grain from Duluth. When the day for settlement came Armour not only met his own short sales, but poured another 9,000,000 bushels into the market and broke the corner.

Thirty years ago, Mr. Murdock recalled, "I was a newspaper reporter here in Chicago and it was part of my duty to call on your father every week. I got to know him as a newspaperman will know a man of his magnitude. He had a marvelous knowledge of grain and produce markets. Since those days you have taken his place and are interested in the development of this great western basin. You believe from your own observation that the speculative plan of the future market gives the producer a square deal."

"On the average I think it has, because the farmer has a place to sell his wheat every day in the year. He may not always get the price he should, the price he is entitled to but I think it has stabilized conditions. Without the speculative future market no trader would buy wheat until he had it sold and you know that some times you have to carry wheat a long time before you can sell it."

ROCK ISLAND BUSINESS MEN MAKE UP FUND

ATTENTION of the PUBLIC

In bringing "The Storm" to Jacksonville and in presenting this outstanding super-film to its patrons for a period of four days at the Rialto theatre commencing next Monday, the management of the Rialto goes on record in advance by emphasizing the fact that this is one of the greatest, if not the greatest that has ever been secured for this city. That "THE STORM" ranks with the greatest of screen masterpieces of all times is fully conceded by all the noted stage and screen critics.

Verily, "THE STORM" has been acclaimed the biggest picture of the year, even surpassing in beauty and power and spectacular immensity the stage version which held sway for a whole year in New York. Few pictures have enjoyed the wide popularity as "THE STORM."

This brilliant screen masterpiece of eight parts was founded upon Langdon McCormick's celebrated stage offering, was directed by Reginald Barker, who gave us the "Old Nest," and was produced by the Universal Film Corporation.

House Peters, who plays the leading role, is one of the best of America's romantic actors on the screen and his appearance in a production is in itself a guarantee of excellence. Supporting House Peters in the three chief roles are charming Virginia Valli, Matt Moore and Josef Sykkard, the endeared veteran character actor, who played the role of the French Father in the "Four Horsemen."

The management of the Rialto theatre is extremely delighted to offer this wonderful screen masterpiece and sincerely believes that every person that witnesses it during its four day engagement here will not only be glad they attended but will agree with the management that it is one play in a thousand.

J. Ogden Armour proved an interesting witness at the federal trade commission inquiry relating to the Chicago board of trade. Mr. Armour temporarily declined to answer some of the questions asked, but may give answer today.

Among the men of great wealth actively engaged in the business world, Mr. Armour occupies a somewhat unique place. He is a man of comparatively simple tastes and is very approachable. His public statements always have a certain stamp of fairness and he is generally credited with being a man who considers his business affairs as a trusteeship for which he must give proper account. Making money means nothing to Mr. Armour, for all his wants are supplied. The making of a good and faithful record seems to be his great ideal.

GONE FOREVER.
(N. E. A.)
Enough gasoline to run a Ford car 1,440,000,000 miles is wasted each year in America thru preventable evaporation in storage tanks. So announced John-Manville engineers, working with the U. S. bureau of mines.

It seems like a big waste, it is. But America is a land of waste. The old saying, that the food we throw into our garbage pails would feed Europe, is not far from correct.

However, like other people, most of us are reasonably economical. We turn the carpet to distribute bleaching by the sunlight instead of letting the fading concentrate on one end. We make the remains of the roast into hash. We mend and patch. And, too, most of us save an attitudinal of stuff that "might come in handy"—but never does.

The big waste in America cannot be prevented by the people. The job is up to inventors and engineering experts.

A ton of coal leaves the mine with 29,000,000 British thermal (heat) units locked up in it. But only 1,044,000 of these heat units are actually converted into mechanical energy. The rest is wasted—lost in transit, up the chimney or carried away by the ashman.

You could fry an egg in a twinkling by holding the "spitter" over the top of the average chimney. No one has ever been able to figure out how to save that wasted heat. Eventually some one will. The solution may be in putting a hot water tank a few inches above the chimney top, or water pipes crosswise with the chimney.

Slag in the steel industry used to be washed, piled up in small mountains. Now it is ground up and used as a surfacing for bricks.

Time was, in the oil country, in the days of kerosene oil lamps, when men around refineries washed their overalls in a tub of gasoline and then dumped the "gas" out. The fellows who invented gasoline engines and auto stopped that sort of waste by finding a use for gasoline.

The profits of many big corporations today are largely in such economies as these.

More opportunities for bright minds, in the stopping of waste, than any other field.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM
Avocations
BY BERTON BRALEY

THERE'S a true romantic glamor to the wielding of a hammer,
And the song the saw is singing makes glad music on the air,
There's a simple sort of pleasure when you scheme and plan and measure
For the making of a table or the shaping of a chair;
Though you're awkward and ungainly and your blunders stand out plainly,
Though the job is bungled badly when your laboring is done,
Though your friends may jeer and kid it, none the less you're proud you did it,
As a carpenter you're awful—but you've had a lot of fun!

THEN your labors grow more thrilling as you find you're getting skillful,
That you do not pound your fingers as you often used to do,
When you know, beyond denying, that the task which you are trying
May at least resemble something when your tinkering is through;
Oh, you feel exceeding clever when the fruit of your endeavor is a box or chair or table or a sofa or a shelf,
Which is near what you intended; and you whisper "Ain't it splendid?"
As you stand around admiring what you fashioned by yourself!

LIFE can never be a glum thing for the man who's building something (When it really isn't labor but another form of play),
Give him rules and chalk and pencils, give him tools and such utensils,
And he'll have the sort of hobby which will drive his cares away.
He will paint and he will plaster, he will do his best to master
Every craft he ever heard of, with no thought of filthy pelf,
Every tinker's job will lure him and there's nothing that will cure him
Of the feverish endeavor to be making things himself!

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, of Hamilton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

Write for free book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important information, and all about "Mother's Friend," to Dr. J. C. Hartman, R. A. 21, Atlanta, Ga. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

CHIEF HUNT TALKED TO JUNIOR HIGH PUPILS

Fire Chief Sam Hunt addressed the students of the David Prince Junior High school Wednesday at the invitation of Miss Laura White principal of the school.

The occasion was in line with Fire Prevention Week. Mr. Hunt told the students of the huge waste annually by fire and that many fires are caused by carelessness. Only recently was the movement started to check fire loss and the idea has grown until it is now a national state and city observation and proclamations are issued to call attention to its observation.

Chief Hunt reviewed the activities of the state in inspection of property to prevent fires and in a simple way explained to the school children the little things that often contribute to great fires. At the close of his remarks Chief Hunt asked that the school cooperate in cutting down the fire loss in Jacksonville by keeping clean all places that might contribute to a fire.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

The Only Oats

That cook in five minutes

Now Quaker Oats hold supreme place, the world over, in two important ways.

They are the finest-flavored oats in existence. They are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get but ten pounds of such flakes from a bushel.

For many a year, oat lovers the world over have sent for Quaker Oats because of that matchless flavor. Those who know it will not go without it.

Now an Instant Style

Now that same flavor, that same quality, come in an Instant style.

Instant Quaker Oats cooks in 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection. It is by far the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

In Instant style the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Get Quaker Oats always, in fairness to yourself. This is the food of foods—the greatest food that grows. You want the dish delightful.

But tell your grocer which style you want, the Instant or the regular. He has both, and the price is the same for either.

Regular Quaker Oats

Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Instant Quaker Oats

Come in package at right, with the extra "Instant" label.

Claims and Discoverers

In Columbia National Organ of Knights of Columbus

By John B. Kennedy

If it is true that a little learning is a dangerous thing, and the truth of this as well as many of Pope's engaging dicta can be philosophically questioned, then it is certainly true that a little learning combined with a lot of prejudice can create havoc with reasoning. There are now circulating thru the country two documents—of far-fetched and puerile prejudice. One, and the more dignified document, if dignity can be to any degree a quality of manufacture of this type, combats the claim that Christopher Columbus discovered America with the claim that Leif Ericson accomplished that feat some hundreds of years before the appearance of Columbus in this hemisphere.

The other document is a well-printed but vulgar attack upon a member of the United States senate who has associated his name with a spontaneous movement to federalize Columbus Day. There is the inevitable reference to the "Irish Roman Catholic Knights of Columbus" who seek to force a "Catholic holiday" down the throat of America.

Neither of these documents could be worthy of even passing notice did they not represent a continuous propaganda which seriously affects minds unwholesomely occupied with religious and racial prejudice. To treat with indifference these intelligently planned attacks is to be indifferent to their effects; waving them aside is simply waving them on. For if it is true that a fool can ask more questions in five minutes than a sage can answer in five hours, it is certainly true that a half truth, well-propagandized, can do as much damage as most of the lies an enterprising and imaginative knave can invent.

The obvious effort to discredit Columbus, and by discrediting him to reflect upon the organization named after him, cannot succeed through furtive propaganda, it is true; but it can succeed if unchecked, in developing anti-Columbus tradition which will be the seed of all sorts of error and add to the mass of absurdities with which the world is plagued. From denying that Columbus discovered America the bolder controversialists may finally advance to the historical position of denying that Columbus ever existed. Such things have happened before where those with a little learning have been reckless of the dangers popularly attributed to their mental moiety.

Examination of the facts shows some evidence that one Leif Ericson did achieve the journey across the Atlantic something about one thousand years ago. He did not discover America. It seems hardly necessary to repeat the truism that a discoverer is an unenviable one, who makes known what he has found to the whole world. Ericson did not do this. But the more important element in the true definition of discoverer is that of consequence. Gunpowder was known to many men, and their bereaved relatives, before the label of discoverer was attached to the name of Bacon. After Bacon made his scientific secret known to the world the world promptly made use of gunpowder, finding it extremely effective in the march of progress by blowing up all varieties of obstacles—vegetable, mineral and animal. Steam was known long before Watts discovered it. Men, women and children in unbounded numbers had known the force of heat of compressed vapor in terms of sudden kitchen explosions and accompanying scalds and bruises. It remained for Watts to demonstrate that steam could serve humanity much more effectively than it could injure humanity. The same with radium. Before Madame Curie was acclaimed its discoverer, chemists knew of it, had probably seen and felt it; but her industrious demonstration of it made it the remedy par excellence for stubborn diseases of a certain genera.

Examination of the facts also shows evidence that hundreds of years before the Ericson adventure, other mariners from Phoenicia and China visited America, and probably centuries before them the seeds of the autochthonic or aboriginal races of these continents crossed the seas from some distant radius of the cradle of the human race in Asia. Yet none of these were discoverers any more than Ericson was a discoverer. For what was the fruit of their journeying here?—the knowledge of the rest of the world that in this western hemisphere were continents fertile to the hand of the civilized? There is no evidence of this. The fact is that they did not discover to the old world this new world and upon this fact may be based as an additional fact their ignorance of the new world as such.

Did Ericson—if we grant his story true to the fanciful limits of the anti-Columbus propagandists—excite the states of Europe to an interest in this new hemisphere that gave an impetus to the greatest colonizing movement in the Christian era? Decidedly he did not. Ericson lived and died and the Old World cared nothing for the New World, even if it knew anything of it, and that is doubtful.

Puerile Propaganda

It remained for Columbus to stir the blood of a Europe grown stale with wars and pestilences to undertake the new adventure that he had found for civilization; it was he and he alone who found new features to whom the Gospel could be preached, and whose mission resulted from that apostolic purpose. His message to the ancient kingdoms of the east fell upon them like a secret thundered from the heavens. Eagerly, with a rapidity that astonished us who are accustomed to the speedy travel of today, ships went down to the sea over the course marked by the great navigator, carrying soldiers, merchants, adventurers, priests—the pioneer of the peoples and powers that have grown and are growing here, but for Columbus, no man knows what ages of savage waste might have continued.

The influences that profited most by the first Catholic invasion were not Catholic influences, for Europe at that time was practically dominated by Protestant powers. Yet these Protestant powers accepted the fact of Columbus' discovery, and while the anti-Columbus propagandists take some puerile from the naming of Amerigo Vesputci they swallow the western hemisphere after their own contradiction of the Italian Catholic Columbus, for if Vesputci was not an Italian Catholic—why, we presume the claim might be reasonably made that he was an Eskimo traveling under an alias!

Propaganda against the legalizing of Columbus Day is not only organized ingratitude, it is also moral sedition, for if the discovery is belittled how can his discovery (of which our American countries are direct developments) logically escape belittlement? But, enough. It is the faith and not the achievement of Columbus that irritates those who benefit by the one while they malign the other. Consider the amusing joy with which, in certain quarters, the recent story that Columbus was half-Jew, was received—as though his racial origin, whatever it may have been, could affect his creed or his mission! The scientific gentlemen to whom the enemies of revealed religion and especially of Catholicism appeal with a childlike eagerness that reflects some carbon copy credit on their infidel souls, at least serve the world when they demonstrate that black is not white, and that night is not day. And these scientific gentlemen, so far as they enjoy reputations as historians, are agreed that America was discovered and that Christopher Columbus was the discoverer. Amid all the tangles and errors and omissions of our latter-day school of history revisers, the fact remains undisputed: Those who feel uncomfortable under the fact and seek to escape from it will find a tolerably complete list of outrageous statements in any daily paper.

Engel has visited Jacksonville many times during the past six years, each time bringing with him news of an important motion picture event. This time Engel comes in advance of "The Storm," one of the brilliant pictures of the year, which won such lavish praise in the metropolitan press. "The Storm" says Engel is founded upon Langdon McCormick's stage success, and will be presented at the Rialto theatre for four days starting Monday. Engel declares that motion pictures as a whole have shown a wonderful recovery from a year ago, and attributes this mainly to the finer pictures being made by the reputable producers.

ROADSTER LIGHT-SIX COUPE-ROADSTER

$975 $1225

The Studebaker Light-Six Roadster and Coupe-Roadster were primarily built for business use. In meeting the urgent demands of business, they naturally have fulfilled the needs of the small family.

Each is built for hard usage, day in and day out. And as they are completely Studebaker built—you know they will stand up under hard going.

The bodies are attractive, roomy and thoroughly comfortable for all-day travel. Ample luggage space is provided under the rear decks.

There's an internal hot-spot to reduce gasoline consumption to a minimum. Valves are inclined at a 20 degree angle to give a new measure of power, greater flexibility and better acceleration. Crank shaft and connecting rods are machined on all surfaces, thus eliminating vibration and insuring longer life to the motor.

Studebaker low prices are made possible by great volume and complete manufacture. Studebaker quality is traditional.

Both models are upholstered in genuine leather; have ample space under the rear deck for luggage; ignition and thief-proof transmission locks, and cowl ventilator.

MURRAYVILLE DOMESTIC SCIENCE CLUB MET

Mrs. Ernest Jordan entertained members of the Murrayville domestic science club Wednesday afternoon at her home in Murrayville. The afternoon was most profitably enjoyed by all present. The feature of the program was the arrival of the guests dressed as school girls, it being a school program, and much merriment was thus afforded. The program was carried out in regular school fashion. School books taken up and the following program carried out:

Roll Call—Each member brings some former school picture and name first and last teacher and where school was attended. Paper, "Reminiscences of School Days," Mrs. Mary E. Wright. This was an interesting discourse, the writer telling many personal experiences of school days. Paper, "A Scholar's Hope"—Miss Mildred Wright. This was a beautiful theme and an inspiration to all who heard it, the writer impressing her listeners that hope is really the desire of good, accompanied by expectation. There were 13 members present, together with the following guests: Mrs. Jennie Petri of St. Louis and Miss Georgia Mawson.

At the close of the program the hostess invited the club members into the dining room and there they found dinner buckets containing elegant refreshments of pressed chicken sandwiches, apple tarts with whipped cream and coffee. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. T. Doyle on Wednesday, Oct. 18.

WHITE HALL HAS OIL
PAINTING OF LINCOLN

Prized Painting of Marjory President May be Hung in New Library at White Hall—History of the Painting.

White Hall, Oct. 11.—Seared with age, evidences of moth bites and damages received during the Lincoln-Douglas debates, there arrived at White Hall today one of the prized oil paintings of Abraham Lincoln—prized because of the intimate association of Lincoln with the production and his personal acquaintance with the artist.

The history of this Lincoln painting centers around Winchester, where resides the late Col. William Camm, who conducted a portrait gallery at Winchester for four or five years prior to the civil war. Lincoln was an occasional visitor at the studio at the county seat of Scott county, and at times visited Mr. Camm in his studio. In 1860 Mr. Camm completed the painting here mentioned, but whether it was begun in the same year there is no way now of ascertaining, as Col. Camm died 22 years ago at the home of his son, William Camm, Jr., at Hazen, Ark., who came into possession of the Lincoln painting through the residence of his father with him in the last few years of Col. Camm's life, and the picture has always remained in possession of this son until it was sent to his brother, Ernest C. Camm, at White Hall. It has been locally known for several months that such a picture was in existence and those engaged in White Hall historical work have insisted on its being donated to the new library building, which may probably be the final disposition unless it develops a value in Lincoln memorial circles that will preclude its remaining in White Hall.

In 1860 Lincoln was 51 years of age, and he posed for the outline of this painting, which was completed from a photograph of Lincoln taken at Winchester before Col. Camm opened his studio there. It was used as a banner during the Lincoln-Douglas debates, and a hole through Lincoln's right hand has historical value in that the hole was made when the banner fell from the platform during the Lincoln-Douglas debate in Springfield. It has never passed out of the hands of the Camm family, and is at present on display in H. S. Avery's window.

Col. Camm was only 20 years of age when the civil war broke out, and he was made captain of Company K, 114th Illinois Infantry. Being under age it was necessary to have a presidential order for his promotion to the rank of lieutenant colonel of that regiment, which was readily forthcoming from his personal friends. Mr. Lincoln aided by the efforts of the then Governor Richard Yates, and he served as lieutenant colonel from November 25, 1861, until June 24, 1864, when he enlisted for a term in the regular army. It was then that Col. Camm's talents were further valued by the government.

During the battle of Shiloh he penned his personal experiences day by day in the production of an account that probably has never been excelled, and which diary is now in the hands of Ernest C. Camm, the son, in White Hall. This diary contained sketches of the battlefield that the government found to be the most approved in existence, and Col. Camm was made a member of the commission to preserve the lines of the battlefield and locate the national cemetery there.

In 1865 Col Camm was delegated to lay out the burying ground at Spottsylvania. Both of these historic spots were surveyed and laid out by Col Camm just as they are retained, and it is possible that he did other like work for the government, but he left no record of it.

The new White Hall library and historical building will observe the laying of the cornerstone on Armistice Day next under the auspices of the American Legion, and it is planned to make the occasion in importance equal to the laying of the cornerstone of the new high school next Monday. On Armistice Day the ladies' auxiliary will serve dinner. The program is now being made up with speakers who will be fully capable of sounding the note of the importance of this movement in White Hall that has been given permanent impetus through provision of an adequate building by Seth N. Griswold.

ALEXANDER S. S. CLASS TO MEET TODAY

MILITARY AFFAIRS COMMITTEE MET

The military affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday morning at the organization headquarters, with Stanley Wright, Colonel O. C. Smith, John Larson and W. T. Harman present. The committee took up the possibility of organizing a strong military unit in Jacksonville and though no definite action was taken, the possibilities of the field will be looked into. If sufficient state troops could be mustered in this vicinity it is probable that an effort will be made to have a state armory, similar to that located at Rockford, erected in Jacksonville. The committee will hold another meeting on Monday morning for further consideration of the plans.

ILLINOIS STATE SCHOOL AT WESTERN

Play Strong Military Team at Alton Saturday—Expect Hard Game.

Coach Robey Burns is working hard with his state school squad for the game with Western Military academy at Alton Saturday. The men came out of the Decatur high game in good shape and the Decatur papers gave the team great praise and said that luck had a large part in the defeat of the Deaf team.

During the week Coach Burns has been working to develop his line. It was the line failing to hold that lost the Decatur game. Had it held until the back field men could get away the story probably would have been different.

The local boys will be outweighed in the Western game. However, the men should give a good account of themselves and make their opponents extend themselves to win.

MITCHELL GETTING READY FOR HANNIBAL

Locals Will Be Seen in Another at Home Game Saturday—Hannibal Has Strong Team.

Coach Mitchell is pointing his high school football squad for the game with Hannibal High which will be played on Illinois Field Saturday afternoon.

In the game with Hannibal last year played in the Missouri city, the locals were defeated. They are going to try and avenge that defeat this year.

At Peoria Jacksonville showed a wonderful defense and Mitchell said the work of the opposing lines was the feature of the game and both gave a wonderful exhibition, being evenly matched.

This week the coach is trying to develop some punch in the back field. If he can get this the red and white combination will be a hard one to beat.

Notes from the Big Ten Camps

ILLINOIS
Champaign, Ill., Oct. 11—Practice until late today constituted the final big work of the University varsity squad before it meets Butler College next Saturday. Coach Zupke sent his eleven against the yearlings and a lively scrimmage ensued. Bill Robison of Carlinville and W. McIlwaine of Chicago featuring at half.

IOWA
Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 11—"We hope to have all our regulars in the Yale game Saturday and if we can throw our full strength into the contest, Iowa should play a good game," was the only statement Coach Howard A. Jones of the University of Iowa would make this afternoon as the western conference team left for Chicago enroute to New Haven where his players will meet those of his brother Tad's in the Yale bowl Saturday.

The announcement cheered old gold backers. They saw in it official proof that John Heldt, center and Leland Parkin, quarterback, who have been out because of injuries would start in the game against the blue.

MICHIGAN
Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 11—Coach Fielding Yost today selected a squad of 24 men to meet the Vanderbilt eleven at Nashville Saturday. The team will leave tomorrow.

Yost will have complete charge of the gridirers at Nashville. Assistant Coaches Weisman, Little and Sturengren having been sent out to watch the play of conference teams, Michigan will meet this fall.

The varsity easily disposed of the strong all freshman eleven in a heavy scrimmage today.

WISCONSIN
Madison, Wis., Oct. 11—The doors were closed at Camp Randall again today as the University of Wisconsin football squad continued its training for the South Dakota contest Saturday. Coach Richards had his regulars on defense, through a heavy scrimmage staged during secret practice.

Difficulty was encountered in strengthening the forward wall.

CHICAGO
Chicago, Oct. 11—Harold Lewis, captain of the University of Chicago football team was out for practice today. He is not fully recovered from his illness and probably will be unable to be in the lineup that faces Northwestern tactics scrimmaged with the varsity today.

MINNESOTA
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 11—Using Indiana formations, the freshmen eleven held the Minnesota varsity to a six to six tie today in the first clash of the year between the two teams. Half-back McCreery injured in the North Dakota game last Saturday still is out of the lineup. Twenty-five men with coaches and trainers will leave tomorrow for Indiana.

COLORED GIANTS
TO PLAY SUNDAY

Manager Frank Smith announced yesterday that he had booked the Twentieth Century Giants of Springfield for a game with the Indians next Sunday if weather conditions are favorable.

The Giants played here early in the season and proved to be a heavy hitting team. However, they have not been made acquainted with Mr. Fryman and it is probable they will find him a tough nut to crack. The game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

CHICAGO NATIONALS DEFEAT AMERICANS

Cubs Take Third Game of Series and Now Lead—Osborne Out-pitched Faber.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11—The Chicago Nationals defeated their American League rivals 8 to 5 today in the third game to decide the city championship. The series now stands two games to one in favor of the Nationals. Ernie Osborne who pitched the Cubs to the first victory came back today with plenty of rest owing to the four postponements and the open date last Friday and triumphed over "Red" Faber, star of the White Sox pitching staff who won the opening game. Faber was no match for the Cubs today and they lambasted his offerings hard in two innings for five runs. Ted Blankenship came to the rescue but before he had settled down Grimes uncorked a home run drive into the right field bleachers in the seventh inning with two mates on the bases and broke the tie which the Sox had made in the sixth. Osborne was wild but spectacular playing by Hollocher and Terry pulled him out of trouble.

Hereafter all remaining games of the series will start at 2 P. M. Score:

ROUTT WILL PLAY
FRANKLIN HIGH HERE

Route college academy football team will play Franklin high school team on the grounds of the School for the Deaf, Saturday, October 14 at 3 o'clock. This is the first game that Routt has ever played on the local field and is also the first game that Franklin high boys should give a good account of themselves as it is their second game, they having played Roodhouse at Roodhouse last Saturday. The receiving an overwhelmed defeat by Roodhouse the boys got experience that should be of considerable value to them in Saturday's game.

Coach Coenen of Routt has been putting his men thru the paces every day this week smoothing the wrinkles out of the plays for Saturday's game.

The probable lineup of Routt for Saturday's game will be: Jackson and Mallen, ends; Doyle and Fitzgerald, tackles; Sehy, H. Norris, Early, guards; Cleary, center; Murphy, quarter; Trahey, McKavitt, Clancy, Holmes, half-backs and Gebert, fullback.

armistice with the Turks. The market closed unsettled, 1/2c to 1 1/2c net higher with December $1.08 1/2 to $1.09 1/2 and May $1.10 1/2 to $1.11 1/2.

Corn finished 1/2 to 3/4c, oats at a shade off to 3c gain, and provisions down 1/2 to 20c.

Most of the heavy buying of wheat was ascribed to one big trader here but whether his purchases were to cover previous sales or were in the nature of an investment remained an open question. Bearish effects of the stoppage of hostilities in the Near East failed to extend beyond the first 30 minutes of trading in the wheat pit. The buying of such volume set in as to encourage the speculative rank and file to take to the bull side and trade were assertions in some quarters that peace was to be regarded as an aid to advance rather than the reverse.

The strong upward movement of wheat prices continued until the last hour. A reaction which took place in the final transactions appeared to be brought about chiefly thru profit-taking on the part of the early buyers.

Provisions were lower in line with hogs here and with lard at Liverpool.

KANSAS CITY LIVE STOCK REVIEW

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct.
11.—With cattle receipts about 10,000 less than a week ago, the general market especially for the plain to fairly good classes, which have been showing acute weakness, strengthened. Other classes maintained steady prices, but with more activity in the trade.
The general question was, whether the decrease in receipts means that the maximum movement for the season has been passed, and that from now on it will show decreasing volume, or whether the decrease was due entirely to the inability of railroads to supply stock cars. In all probability it is a combination of the two that caused the decrease, and at the same time it is quite probable that in no following week, will the run again reach the liberal proportions of the past two weeks. However, stock and feeding of cattle are in large supply, and the decrease is showing in classes far enough for killers.
Scarcity of full fed steers exists and the lack of them is causing increased demand for the short fed kinds. A good many feeders see an opportunity to buy 1,150 to 1,250 pound steers for a short finish. Good stock calves, and 500 to 750 pound stock steers are in liberal supply, and at the prevailing range of $5.50 to $7.25 look worth the money.
Common stockers can be bought at $4 to $5.

Hog prices last week broke rather sharply, today strengthened some under an active demand.
The top price was $9.65, and bulk of sales $9.10 to $9.60. Pigs and stock hogs are selling at $8.50 to $9. Receipts of this hogs suitable for feeding are in fairly liberal supply.

Net general sheep market, tho stronger than last week's close was about 1/2 lower than a week ago. Fat lambs are selling at $12.75 to $13.75, fat ewes $5.25 to $6.50, wethers $6.50 to $7.25, and feeding lambs $12.25 to $13.

Have a Podo-graph Print Made of Your Foot—Free

With this new device, invented by Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, a good clear impression of the sole of the foot is obtainable without removing the shoe. The Podo-graph gives heel-to-ball measurement on which all standard shoe sizes are based. By its use correct shoe fitting is simplified.

Dr. Scholl's Podo-graph. A new method of taking a foot impression which quickly shows the condition of the arches. The perfect foot shows an incomplete outline.

There is a transverse arch across the ball of the foot. Callouses on the sole, pains and cramping at this point indicate a weakness in this arch.

Dr. Scholl's Foot-Easer—relieves the tiring strain in feet and body by gently supporting the weak arches and evenly distributing the body's weight.

SHOE FACTORY SITE STILL UNSETTLED

Brown Shoe Company Men Impressed With Local Conditions—Will Give City Due Consideration.

Mayor E. E. Crabtree and Secretary Harold Welch of the chamber of commerce were in St. Louis yesterday for a conference with officials of the Brown Shoe Co., with reference to the possible location of a branch factory here. Last week a delegation of Jacksonville business men inspected several of the company's factories in the St. Louis area and subsequently met officials of the company.

At another date company officials visited Jacksonville and took stock of local conditions. The report of the conference had in St. Louis yesterday will be made to the board of directors at the regular meeting to be held tonight.

It is understood that the shoe company officials have not yet determined in just what city they will place their next factory branch, and an inspection trip is to be made soon to Henderson, Ky., that city among others having made overtures for a factory branch.

The Jacksonville men were treated with great courtesy yesterday and were impressed again with the fact that the Brown Shoe Co. is a great concern and that any contract agreement made will be lived up to in letter and in spirit.

The next factory the company establishes will be for the manufacture of some of the cheaper grades of footwear, and the workers will for the most part not be as skilled as is true in factories working on some other classes of footwear. The company will take this fact into account in choosing a factory site, with the knowledge that communities differ in the quality of labor available. It is possible that it would be better for the company to consider Jacksonville when purporting to locate a factory of another type.

However, it can be stated that the company officials have not yet definitely determined whether or not they favor Jacksonville at this time by comparison with some other cities. They have, however, indicated very freely to local representatives that they consider Jacksonville a very fine city and realize that there are some conditions here which can be counted ideal factory surroundings.

Whatever is done will not be a matter of bargaining and bartering, for the company has one uniform proposition with reference to factory location and makes like arrangements with all cities where factory locations are chosen.

Another matter to be considered at the meeting of the board of directors tonight will relate to the commercial division of the chamber. An automobile day is being planned by the division and some details with reference to it will be considered.

There was a goodly attendance of members, and the president, Mrs. John Moore, was in the chair. First there was a short business session and afterward a very instructive paper was given by Mrs. Roy Fox on "Occupational Therapy in Hospitals." This was followed by a discussion and later there was a social hour, at which time the hostess served attractive refreshments.

The guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Uffchurch, Mrs. T. U. Fox, Mrs. Rhodes of Pittsfield and Mrs. Sibert of Jacksonville.

OVERHEATED PIPE CAUSES FIRE ALARM

The fire department was called to the residence at 956 North Church street Wednesday evening. Fire had started from an overheated stove—pipe running thru the ceiling and floor to the second story. The blaze was extinguished by the use of the chemical with but little damage. The property is owned by George Stout and occupied by Elmer Sheemaker.

About noon Tuesday the department responded to a call from the scene of the fire which destroyed a hay barn of the McNamara-Henaghan company in Capps avenue a few days ago. Residents in the neighborhood feared the high wind was starting the flames in the straw that had filled the barn. However, the department's services were not needed.

Three planes will make the trip and will be in charge of experienced officers of the air service. The planes will drop literature relative to the air service as they fly over Jacksonville. They will also visit Beardsdown, Virginia and all other cities and towns in this vicinity and distribute literature.

Let the "Estate Oak" Solve Your Heating Problem

The ash box in this famous stove is a single cored casting. No joints means no leaks—and no leaks means perfect control over the fire. But the Estate Patented Jointless Ash Box is only one of the many reasons for the superiority of the Estate Oak. The Estate Patented Screw Draft Registers which work with all the precision of the valve in a steam radiator, are well worthy of mention; the Estate Double Strength Single Fire-Pot, which never wears through, ought to be considered; the Estate Anti-Buckling Ring is another important improvement; and all of these features combine to produce such perfect fire control that we can guarantee every Estate Oak to keep fire fifty hours on one charge of any kind of soft coal.
